MEDLINE Mobile Health Services uses the Seattle, Washington USA EMS response model. Medline's goal is to establish Alarm Centers in each region of Turkey. When an individual calls the Alarm Center for help, the center will locate the nearest suitable ambulance to respond to the distress call, and advise where the closest suitable hospital located. The Alarm Center can also assist with arrangements for transportation to a major city in Turkey for long-term care or international air transport to a location outside of Turkey. Medline is accredited by JCI, Joint Commission International.

The ambulances are configured like those in Seattle, Washington and are better equipped than most ambulances in the U.S. Medline currently has telemetry communication with Memorial Hospital in Istanbul and can perform thrombolytic therapy in the field.

Medline maintains 24-hour Alarm Centers. The Alarm Centers also have physicians available 24-hours a day for "Ask-a-Doc" questions including poison control issues. Medline offers both fee-for-service and prepaid membership which include unlimited emergency ambulance service including needed medication.
